Bounty Land Claims. Certain statements are going the rounds in the Philadelphia Ledger and other journals, which we are athorized to say from an official source, do not correctly represent the action of the Pension Office on the bounty land claim under the act of September 1850. It is true that the applications already received exceed one hundred thousand in number, and companies that the applications already received exceed one hundred thousand in number, and companies to the following the follo ncreasing at the rate of five hundred a day but so far from the claims themselves being permitted to slumber, they are subjected from heir first reception to a rapid process of classification and arrangement, which, though to JENNY LIND BOOT supercivil observers it may appear tedious and contary, is essential to guard against error for Ladies, Misses and Children. atch. There are now nearly three hundred for Ludies, Misses and children, and any onstant exercise to swell the number to Quantity of other styles and qualities four hundred and upwards. Nearly fifteen thousand warrants have been issued to various parts of the country since the plates were first received from the engravera. [Wash. Rep.
